ABOUT ME

I have always been passionate with information technology and design and how these affect the day to day activities of different individuals and industries as well. My work experience gave me rich exposure to quality control, team coaching and project/client management, while I gained further understanding of web developing during my training with Tuitt. I am also passionate about music and teamwork which is why I am part of our local church's music and youth ministries where I was also able to exercise leadership and team collaboration.
